

Getting to School Around the World

Indonesia

These children venture across a broken suspension bridge.

Indonesia

Children from the Batu Busuk village in Sumatra, Indonesia tightrope 30 feet above a flowing river, followed by a 7 miles walk.

Philippines

Elementary students use inflated tubes to cross a river, followed by at least one hour of walking.

Vietnam

Students swim twice a day
across a river to attend school at Trong Hoa
commune, Minh Hoa
district.

Colombia

Kids who live in the rainforest journey to school down steel cables at 50 miles per hour.

China

It's a 125 mile mountainous journey for boarding students in China.

Himalayas

Parents take their children across ice and frost to boarding school.

Jerusalem

Children walk to school despite the violence taking place between Israeli and Palestinian protesters.

Works Cited

<http://www.lifehack.org/articles/communication/the-journey-some-students-take-school-will-make-you-value-education.html>