

Presidential and Parliamentary Democracy

Similarities

-Freedom and personal rights for citizens

-Both citizens vote, just in different ways

But...Each is organized in a different way!

Parliamentary Democracy

Leader: Prime Minister

Law Making Body: Parliament

Who elects the leader: Appointed by the Parliament

Figure Head: Recognizes a monarch (king or queen)

Fancy word when a monarch is present: Constitutional Monarchy

Queen Of England

The Monarch's Home

Presidential Democracy

Leader: President

Lawmaking Body: Legislature

Who elects the leader: The citizens (people)

I am
President
Putin of Russia

Big Differences???

1. Leaders
2. How the leaders are elected
3. The lawmaking body
